SOUTHWOOD
GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

It's a new game

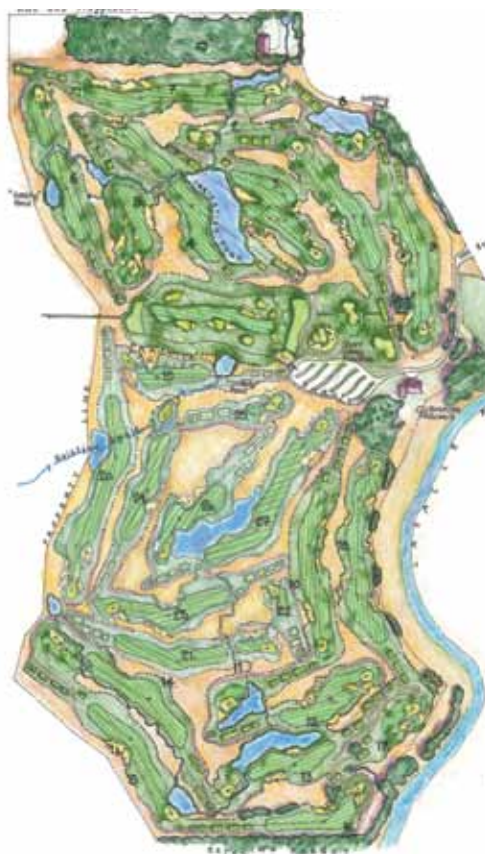

Lush fairways carve through the rolling landscape,
each leading to tour-quality greens surrounded by wild fescue.

The Course

Wind-swept bunkers and tempting water hazards challenge the play of most holes. Nostalgic views of the river valley, oak tree grove and nearby monastery speak of a rich history.

Thomas McBroom

Measuring 5,314 to 7,311 yards in length, Southwood caters to all levels of players by offering a choice of five tees and a selection of individual, couple and corporate membership packages.

Adjacent to the Trappist Monastery Ruins in St. Norbert, the 18-hole course was designed by renowned Canadian architect Thomas McBroom to the highest standards. The spectacular natural and historic surroundings provide a perfect setting over almost 300 acres. An additional 9 holes are planned for the future.

Tree groves, river valley and historic ruins have been left largely untouched, while natural contours of the land are maximized to create distinct landmarks, shadows, hills and ridges. From tee to green or green to tee, riding or walking, every golfer can expect a great experience.

Almost every hole features a water or sand hazard – or both – to challenge your approach to state-of-the-art greens emerging from their fescue surroundings. There's rarely a flat lie and in many cases, players will need to draw on precision as much as power to get to the green. At some high points, golfers have a view of the course's impressive expanse and beauty. From here, you can assess the challenges that await you and the game you'll need to play.

It's a new game

Our 9th hole takes you on a journey parallel to the monastery and straight through the ruins of a farm and its surrounding trees. You'll need more than a hope and a prayer to land safely on the green. Just beyond, our welcoming clubhouse beckons.

Top 10 reasons to play Southwood

- » Unique, river-front country club setting
- » A choice of five tees guarantees a game for every player
- » Challenges for all skill levels - Drive it in play, but mastered wedge play and putting will make the day!
- » Highest specification USGA competition standard greens
- » State-of-the-art course drainage and irrigation
- » World-class practice area
- » Fully-appointed clubhouse and pro shop
- » Attractive membership, share and transfer fees
- » Strong juniors' and ladies' golf programs
- » Outstanding, professional golf instruction

Just minutes outside the perimeter, Southwood is a short drive from anywhere within the city – but far enough away to give you the tranquility of a true country club setting.

The Clubhouse

The clubhouse design reflects the rich character of the property and bordering lands. This multi-purpose facility is available for members and their guests to enjoy year round. Its beautiful upscale design, warm decor and idyllic setting also make it a popular choice for tournaments, weddings, and other events for groups ranging in size from 10 to up to 200 people.

Just over 18,000 square feet on two levels, the clubhouse is home to our dining, banquet and meeting areas, as well as our fully-appointed lounge and locker room facilities. Wireless Internet service throughout the building is just one of the many conveniences for members and guests.

The experience of working up an appetite on the course is even more enjoyable when you can satisfy it in our gorgeous Tournament Room or outdoor patio area. You can indulge in delectable choices from a varied menu for breakfast, lunch, dinner and late evening. Special dining features held for members on and off season include prime rib, seafood, including the ever-popular lobster night and other chef specialties. Members in need of a friendly welcome or recharging of the spirit can also kick back for food and refreshments in the deluxe comfort of our lounge, featuring a full bar and flat screen entertainment.

Panoramic views of the surrounding ruins, river valley, oak grove and golf course make the clubhouse an enjoyable retreat for members and their guests.

Spectacular events are our specialty. The clubhouse is designed for optimum functionality, accentuated by gorgeous wood, stone, granite and sunlit appointments. Our meeting and banquet rooms are suitable for groups of up to 200. Trust our experienced staff to take care of all of your arrangements whether you choose to have your event in our banquet room or outdoors on our beautiful grounds.

The Pro Shop

Southwood's fully-stocked pro shop provides the latest in golf technology and fashion as well as club repair and fitting services. We take pride in being member-friendly and available when you need us.

Club History

It's a new game

"For a long time there has been a great need among Winnipeg golfers for a permanent eighteen (18) hole golf course at a convenient distance from the city, and served by the Street Railway as well as a paved road, making it accessible for all weather."

"And so it is with the aim of a perfectly laid out eighteen (18) hole course with its attendant commodious club house, which can be reached either by auto or street car, that this appeal is made to rally round the means to a newer, bigger and better game of golf."

-Excerpts from Prospectus for the Southwood Golf Club - An amalgamation of the Norwood Golf Club, Est. 1894 and the Winnipeg Hunt Golf Club.

And so began efforts to create a distinct golf experience for south Winnipeg and the first major championship level golf course in Manitoba.

The club itself already had an illustrious history, originating as the Norwood Golf Club, also known as the Winnipeg Golf Club in 1894. A few years later, in the early 1900's, the Winnipeg Hunt Club was established. In an undated article, Lillian Gibbons, a long-time reporter for the Winnipeg Tribune, wrote, "A group of men who loved to ride formed the Winnipeg Hunt Club, built stables, kennels, grooms' quarters, imported hounds from England, wore pink coats, carried their whips and with a joyous 'Halloo', were off through the bush of Fort Garry." Ms. Gibbons describes how the riding enthusiasts would return from the hunt to their magnificent clubhouse, built in 1913, for dinners served on glossy damask, set with heavy English silver and crystal. She finishes with "Their glory was short-lived" as by 1914, men who could ride were off to war as cavalry officers. Shortage of game and the advent of the automobile have also been blamed for the eventual end of the Hunt Club.

Time for a different game

With the demise of the hunt, in 1918, seven golf holes were built and the Club became known as the Winnipeg Hunt Golf Club. The popularity of golf was quickly taking hold in Manitoba and in 1919, an amalgamation was proposed between the committees of the Norwood Golf Club and the Winnipeg Hunt Golf Club.

Additional land was acquired from the Agricultural College (site of the University of Manitoba) and the proposal was made and accepted to form the Southwood Golf Club in 1919. At the time, members were required to purchase 600 shares at a cost of $150.00. Annual dues ran from $65 for "Gentlemen Members" to $20 for "Lady Members" and $10 for junior members. Green fees ran from .50 to $2. Like today, payment for shares could be made in installments so as not to cause undue hardship for members.

The original course was designed by Willie Park, Junior from Musselburgh, Scotland, winner of the British Open in 1887 and 1889. The course was re-designed in later years by Stanley Thompson and was the acclaimed architect's first 18-hole design in Canada.

Southwood remained an active and vibrant club throughout the turbulent years of the early 20th century, responsive to its members and a changing world. The club has been host to a number of major championship events over the decades, including the Manitoba Open.

The grand, original clubhouse, built in 1913 was destroyed by fire in 1935. The former living quarters for Hunt Club staff was then used as the clubhouse until a new clubhouse was built in 1957. The club was reincorporated to become the Southwood Golf & Country Club in 1956.

As a descendant of the Winnipeg Golf Club (a.k.a. Norwood Golf Club), established in 1894, the Royal Canadian Golf Association recognizes Southwood as the oldest 18-hole golf course in Manitoba.

It's a new game

"WOW, what a feeling in the room on Thursday night when the results of the vote were announced. There was a tremendous excitement and anticipation for our new Southwood becoming a reality. The mood didn't slow down at the Club where we celebrated and toasted our future. You could feel the emotion in peoples' voices. We are in store for exciting times as our project unfolds."

-Board President's Message, June 2007

Club on the move

While the location on Markham Road had served the club well from its early beginnings, discussions to move the club began as far back as the early 1960's. While it's not clear what the concerns were, lack of space to expand as well as the early effects of erosion on the riverbank holes were likely causes. In 1966 the Club acquired 240 acres of riverfront property in LaSalle, Manitoba. An ambitious proposal was put forward that included development of a championship 27-hole course, superb clubhouse, swimming pool and tennis courts. The plan was eventually withdrawn however due to high interest rates, escalating costs and opposition raised at the civic level as the property had been designated as green space. The 1976 yearly club summary states, "Hopes for rezoning of the Southwood property (in LaSalle) appeared to be very dim." The LaSalle property was sold in 1982.

Earlier, in 1960, a proposal had been put forward to relocate the Strathcona Curling Club to the Southwood location on Markham Road. This plan was voted down by shareholders in 1961.

The need to look seriously at moving escalated in mid-2000 as the club became plagued by eroding riverbanks, encroaching housing and ever-increasing traffic along the University of Manitoba's busiest thoroughfare.

What started as a dream of the board and membership at the time, escalated into a feasible plan and vision for the future that gained momentum and ultimately approval in early 2007.

The pieces were in place and a multi-year project began to move Southwood 8 km down the road to a sprawling 297 acre location in St. Norbert.

It's a new game

Excitement. Challenge. Inspiration. A new game every time you play.

That's what the Southwood Golf & Country Club of today promises to deliver. Poised graciously alongside the meandering LaSalle River and Trappist Monastery Provincial Heritage Park, the 18-hole course was designed by renowned Canadian Architect Thomas McBroom to the highest standards. The spectacular natural and historic surroundings provide a perfect setting. Tree groves, river valley and historic ruins have been left largely untouched, while natural contours of the land are maximized to create distinct landmarks, shadows, hills and ridges. An additional 9 holes are planned for the future.

The clubhouse's beautiful design measures up to the grandeur of the first clubhouse, built in 1913. Nestled close to a grove of mature oaks overlooking the rustic river bank, members and guests are treated to a nostalgic view of the river and monastery on one side and the sprawling golf course on the other.

The approach looks good from here

Steeped in history and a tradition of excellence and success, Southwood is looking ahead to an exiting and eventful future.

A future you should be a part of.

*It's all about the experience,
and we're striving for the very best.*

Corporate Membership

It's a new game

Top reasons to become a Corporate Member

- » Tour-quality, Thomas McBroom designed course
- » World-class practice facility
- » Competitive share and entrance fees
- » State-of-the-art meeting and banquet facilities including wireless Internet and A/V services
- » Member account charging privileges for most services

Corporate membership can be a powerful business tool for recognizing your best people. A corporate membership at Southwood Golf & Country Club gives you and your designated employees access to competitively-priced, top calibre, private golf, entertainment and meeting facilities at an exceptionally convenient location.

Share and Transfer Fees

Corporate membership is available to any corporation for the purchase of one share ($1,500) of the capital stock of the club. Corporate members are also required to pay an entrance fee of $5,000. Purchase of the share entitles the Corporate Member to designate up to four employees to have playing privileges under the membership, with two having locker services. Proof of employment is required for each designate.

Our Corporate GOLD membership voucher package offers 100 rounds of golf and unrestricted tee time privileges equivalent to those of our gold individual members for $6,800.00. The Corporate SILVER voucher package offers 50 rounds of weekday only golf for $3,400.00. Additional vouchers may be purchased.

Food & Beverage Assessment

Each corporate share is subject to an annual food and beverage assessment (minimum purchase) of $800 for the Gold package or $600 for the Silver package.

Amenities

Those employees designated by the Corporate Member for golf privileges, and their guests, will also enjoy unrestricted access to the clubhouse dining and lounge facilities, as well as the use of our meeting and banquet facilities.

Pro Shop, practice facilities, and other membership benefits are available under the same terms as those applicable to our regular membership.
